Volume 25 Issue 4

Dear Trinity Community,
As I write this, the gut-wrenching images of devastation and horrific acts on the people of Ukraine are ever present.

It's hard to find the words to pray and it's even harder to see how these violent acts against humanity can exist in such blatant opposition to the commandment to love our neighbor as ourselves.

Nothing about the invasion of Ukraine is okay. Nothing about separating parents and children is okay. Nothing about destroying a nation and people is okay. Nothing about driving people out of their land is okay. Nothing about making a profit at the expense of those suffering is okay.

God bless our world leaders who are doing everything they can to stop the horrors and destruction while doing their best to avoid a third world war.

My heart is grieving at the loss of life and home and land. My anger, and even rage, against the spiritual forces and Russian leadership for the ruthless destruction on a people is real. My desire to do something to make a difference is just as great. I expect you are feeling some of these same emotions.

In the Book of Common Prayer, in the Catechism section on The Ten Commandments, we are offered some guidance. On page 848 it states that our duty to our neighbors is to love them as ourselves, and to do to other people as we wish them to do to us.

Focusing on the sixth commandment it states we are to *show respect for the life God has given us; *work and pray for peace; *bear no malice, prejudice, or hatred in our hearts; *and be kind to all the creatures of God.

When everything is going along swimmingly, we can say, "Yes, of course I'll do that". When we are faced with such horrors it's much more difficult to accomplish.

And so, we do our best to love our neighbors as ourselves as we work and pray for peace. We pray for wisdom and discernment for our world leaders as they decide on the best measures to stop the violence against Ukraine and reduce the risk of escalation. We pray for peace in our own hearts, peace in our community, state and country. We pray for peace for Ukraine, Russia and the Middle East.

In order to bear no malice, prejudice, or hatred in our hearts, we pray for the aggressors, that their hearts and minds may be changed and that they turn and repent. We pray for the people in and from Russia who have no responsibility for these horrific decisions. And we pray for protection over Russians who live throughout the world from attacks by others in retaliation and anger toward those who are in control.

As a way to be kind to all the creatures of God, we can keep our eyes open for those we know, or with whom we come in contact, that are from Ukraine or Russia and offer our support and kind words. We can send money to Episcopal Relief and Development at <https://support.episcopalrelief.org>. And we can be kind to one another, remembering that we are all precious children of God.

In Christ's love, Rev. Sue

Our First 40 Days: A Reflection from Bishop Singh

In a blog post from the bishop, he greets the dioceses with gratitude

"Dear saints, I call you saints as the Apostle Paul did because we all aspire toward holiness in Christ Jesus. I greet you from the spring House of Bishops in Houston, TX. Thank you for your support and prayer for the people of Ukraine and Russia.

After over a month of beginning this journey, let me share a few brief observations and seek your prayer for a few things.

Your deep devotion to Christ and the church moves me. Your many new practices to connect with formation and creation inspire me. I suspect that this devotion translates into a hope-filled resilience that you practice seemingly effortlessly. Despite the pandemic and other challenges, you and the Holy Spirit have raised, discerned, and formed many leaders for Holy Orders. God willing and the people consenting, we will joyfully ordain five transitional deacons in April and three vocational deacons in June...."

THANK YOU

Bishop Prince Singh for joining us on March 13 and bringing God's message of hope and joy.

Marc Mulholland for running the sound and cameras for worship for the first time while Archie was away.

The Bishops' Walk

The Bishops' Walk is the hallway behind the Altar and Sanctuary of Trinity Church. It is usually called the ambulatory and allows a person to walk from one side of the church to the other without being seen and thus not distracting from the worship service.

For many years the ambulatory or walkway housed the photos of bishops who served the Episcopal Church. One could walk or "amble" and see the various bishops from 1860 onwards. Later, this area sustained water damage, and to preserve the pictures they were removed and stored. After repairs and repainting, there was again a place for "The Bishops' Walk."

A bishop leads a diocese and is the "shepherd" to the people. He or she makes pastoral visits to the churches in the diocese and confers rites such as confirmation and ordination.

A very special thanks to Anne Trahan who photo-shopped and did so many things to restore old photos, some of which were more than 100 years old. Previously, the pictures were of various sizes and condition. Thanks to her efforts we can see uniform-sized photos of the Bishops of the Diocese of Michigan, and since 1995, those of the Episcopal Diocese of Eastern Michigan.

The Bishops' Walk in the ambulatory behind the High Altar and Sanctuary of Trinity Church.

Kerry Brown was a devoted member of Trinity Church and lovingly served the Lord, especially on the Altar Guild and Historical Guild. The Bishops' Walk was a project to which she dedicated much time and effort. Kerry often took the Sunday School students on a "walk" and explained the bishop's role. She always had a smile and a loving heart. It is our great joy to honor Kerry and dedicate The Bishops' Walk to God's glory and in her fond memory.

Faithfully submitted by the Historical Guild
