Volume 23 Issue 5

Greetings Dear Ones,

I miss you! I miss seeing and worshipping with you in person and simply visiting with you face-to-face. Your Vestry and I enjoy speaking to you and are hearing that we are all missing being together at our beautiful sacred worship space.

As of the printing of this letter Michigan's Stay Home, Stay Safe order has been extended to May 15, which puts our return date to Trinity as unknown. We will remain in our homes until further instruction is given by both the governor and our bishop. The Vestry and I will, of course, keep you updated as soon as more information is made available.

At times it can be overwhelming to absorb all the news and updates on the corona virus. It may be helpful to set some limits for yourself in terms of how much time and during which part of the day to spend on it. We don't know how much longer this will last or what exactly will happen. I'm glad to be participating in the stay-at-home solution but it's still hard. I suspect it's hard for you, too.

I hope you had a chance to look over the Staying Well paper/file I sent out via mail/email. I have found the suggestions and reminders to be helpful. The State of Michigan is providing several resources to help during this time which I've included on a following page.

I've had an Easter hymn in my head for the last several days (Hymn 180). The first verse is: He is risen, he is risen! Tell it out with joyful voice: he has burst his three days' prison; let the whole wide earth rejoice: death is conquered, we are free, Christ has won the victory.

Interestingly, it's the second verse that's been in my head: Come, ye sad and fearful-hearted, with glad smile and radiant brow! Death's long shadows have departed; Jesus' woes are over now, and the passion that he bore—sin and pain can vex no more.

I suspect the reason this verse is going on in my head is that many of us are feeling sad and fearful-hearted. This time in which we are living is unlike anything we've ever been through before. As our leaders keep saying, there is no rulebook for this thing. We are all doing the best we can with what we know at the time. And there is so much that is unknown.

While death's long shadows have departed and we live in the knowledge and reality of resurrection over death, we may be like the disciples were before the Holy Spirit came – not in full understanding of their new reality.

In the uncertainty of this world and current situation, in the words of Paul in Romans 8:35-39 (bold is mine), this is what I know for sure. "Who will separate us from the love of Christ? Will hardship, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? As it is written, 'For your sake we are being killed all day long; we are accounted as sheep to be slaughtered.' No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor rulers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord."

May God's love bless us all, Rev. Sue

The Phoenix Rising from Its Ashes

The phoenix is a mythical creature said to build a nest when old, and then set it on fire. It would then rise from the ashes in victory. According to most myths (Greek, Egyptian and Oriental), only one phoenix lived at a time and it renewed itself every 500 years.

In Jewish legend, the story of the phoenix begins in the Garden of Eden when Eve fell, tempted by the serpent to eat of the forbidden fruit. She then tried to give the fruit to all the creatures but the phoenix did not yield to her temptation and thus was spared from death. An Old Testament reference is from Job 29:18 "Then I thought, 'I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiply my days like the Phoenix'" (most translations use the word 'home' for nest and 'grains of sand' instead of phoenix).

Because of the unique quality of the Phoenix rising out of the ashes, it has become a Christian symbol of the Resurrection and redemptive power of Jesus Christ. The first century Church Father St. Clement used the legend of the phoenix as an allegory of the Resurrection in Paul's first epistle to the Corinthians. Popular in early Christian art and literature as a symbol of Christ, His Resurrection and immortality, the symbolism of the phoenix grew in the Middle Ages and Renaissance, and has continued to this day.

While the phoenix rising from its ashes is a powerful symbol based on myth, our faith is a fact based on the most significant event in history: The bodily resurrection of the God-man, Jesus Christ. Because of Christ's victory over sin and death and His Resurrection, we rejoice that we too will rise from the ashes on the last day and enjoy the resurrection of the body and eternal life in heaven. To God be praise and glory!

What you need:

- Needle and string
- 12 small pom-poms
- Wooden craft stick
- Scissors
- Googly eyes
- Glue
- Coffee filter
- Markers
